WILLIAMS & SONS AGAIN AFTER RYAN

Circular Contends That Those Refusing to Surrender Stock Profited.

Ryan-Blair Party Really Repre sents But One-Third of Entire Capital Stock.

The banking house of John L. Williams and Sons, of this city, has just issued a very interesting and strongly written circular letter, attacking the Ryan-Blair syndicate, which has the control of the Seaboard Air Line Railway stock, and which recently formed the "Scaboard Company." In this letter the Messrs Williams forcefully contend, and sustain their contention with figures, that those who refused to surrender their stock to the syndicate and held on to it, will profit handsomely by this action.

In the circular it is stated on indirecinformation from reliable sources that the total amount of preferred stock deposited with the reorganization committee was $20,551,000, or $6 per cent., and of the common stock $29,766,000, or 80 4-10 per cent., leaving $3,241,000 of proferred stock and $7,238,200 of common stock outside of the "Seaboard Company," or a total of $10,579,200 non-assenting railway stock.

The circular then embodies a balance sheet, showing the assets and liabilities of the Scaboard Company. The circular then proceeds:

This balance sheet shows that if the This balance sheet shows that if the holding company should for any reason be liquidated according to the Ryan-Biair plan, practically the only asset held against the $29.57,690 of "Scabbard" holding "company" common stock outstanding would be $29.768,800 rallway common stock, or enough, in the event that there are no expenses to be deducted, to give back to each holder of 75 shares of "Scabard Company" stock about 99 per cent. in railway stock, or, say, 74 shares. That is to say, a man who deposited 100 shares of railway stock under the Ryan-Biair plan only gets back, in case of dissolution of the company, about 74 shares of rail-plan only gets back, in case of dissolution of the company, about 74 shares of railway slock, instead of the 100 shares of railway stock surrendered by him when he consented to go into the plan.

It is thus shown that the holder of 100 shares of Senboard Air Line Railway stock, who, contrary to our urgent advice, deposited his stock under the Ryan-Blair plan, has already lost 25 per cent, of the value of his stock through unnecessary scaling and has accepted 75 per cent, of the stock of the "Seaboard" holding "company," upon which smaller dividends must be expected, share for share, dends must be expected, share for share, Blair party really represents less than one-third of the entire capital stock of the company, the remaining twe-thirds bring owned principally by shareholders in Maryland and the South, and by members of the board who were stockholders before the advent of Messrs. Ryan and Blair in the company.

Old Market Little Dull.

The scenes at the Old Market yesterday evening were not, quite so pusy is usual. There is a little falling off in tiade, and the erstwhile, perhaps, busiest marketing seene, where Richmonders throng of a Saturday evening to buy their Bunday edibles, presented a dull appears agice in market contrast to its whilom rush and crowded ways. This slackening is not due to a decrease in the appetites of the Richmond elizens, but to a decrease in the appetites of the Richmond elizens, but to a decrease in the incompany.

Mr. Ray Wall's Family Alarmed at His Condition, Caused By Swallowing the Drug.

Every Accessory Well Looked After and Some Excellent Scores Made.

Scores Made.

The midsummer shoot of the Deep Run flunt Club, held yesterday on their beaudful grounds, was pronounced by all present to have surpassed in every respect anything in the shooting line eyer attempted in Richmond.

Under the direction of committees specially appointed for the purpose, arrangements for the occasion had been carefully made, and no effort had been carefully made, and no effort had been spared to make it a great success.

On the handsome appearance of the counds and the excellent facilities which hey offered for such a shoot, the gun sommitte received numerous congratulations.

From the cool and pleasant sanctum o

From the cool and pleasant sanctum of the cashler's office was an open tent, which office was ably handled by Mr. Tom ligner, one was confronted by great activity. Two sets of traps were in full operation, perfectly maniplated by Mr. V. C. Lynham and a corps of assistants, and the constant "bang," "bang" of the guns sounded like the skirmish lines of two opposing forces. Sometimes two or three guns would be discharged in rapid succession, and then the explosions are more intermittent, just as if the sharp-shooters were being very careful in using their ammunition on the enemy.

The refreshments, which were bounti-tully served on the grounds, consisted of our becued ox, Smithfield ham, Brunswick stew, mint juleps, punch and Budweiser over. This was gratis to all and was enjoyed hugely by every one present.

The weather was ideal and some excellent shooting was done, Mr. C. E. Fuliz, captain of the Richmond Gun Club, carried off the honors of the shoot, also a considerable bunch of the "filthy lucre," oy breaking 154 out of 175, S. called to-day, among them Strosnider, who testified:

"We were to go to a gambling house, where McKee was denling faro, and Harris was to follow McKee's signals. This simple system called for an outlay of $10,000, with the certainty of winning $20,000 at a sittling.

"We had several rehearsals at my house and at Dr. Harris's house. On March 17th we went to a gambling house. The Doctor bought a $10,000 stack of chips and started in to play. I bought a smaller stack. The Doctor lost his $10,000. I lost, too, but McKee had the money.

"After thinking the matter over a few days, Dr. Harris decided that the system for beating the bank, the faro bank, was faulty, and he called for another rehearsal. The next day he visited the gambling house again, McKee tells me, and dropped $2,500. I was not there that afternoon."

Strosnider said that later, after another rehearsal, he was arrested and confronted by Andrews, who demanded the money. McKee gave similar testimony.
